IMPORTANT SALE COPPER MINES

The Bryan Group Near Kelvin
Is Purchased By Eastern Capitalists

PRICE IS OVER $100,000

Arizona National Well Financed and Ready to Commence Operations—
Has Fine Property on Pinto Creek
—Metal Market is Strong

Announcement is made of the sale of the Bryan mines near Kelvin, owned by Mrs. Clara Kinney of Globe, and J. F. McCarthy of Pinal county. The purchasers are G. A. Creighton, of Boston, who is largely interested in the Boston Consolidated mines in Utah, and C. H. Seamans of Chicago, and C. D. Meacham of Joliet, Ill., who are large stockholders in the Tri-Bullion Mining company. The consideration was over $100,000.

The deal was negotiated by H. C. Erman, of New York, and J. C. Erman of Globe, and the latter will be superintendent of the mines.

In the Bryan group are fifteen mining claims and three millsites. Several thousand feet of work has been done on the property and shipments of high grade ore have been made from time to time, covering a period of several years. A body of sulphide ore has been opened by shafts and drifts, which averages five feet in width and assays 12 per cent copper, 28 per cent iron, 22 per cent sulphur and 10 per cent lime. Five carloads of ore have been shipped that averaged 13 per cent copper.

The property is said to be in condition to ship from 30 to 40 tons of ore per day. The company expects to ship ore very soon and later will erect a small plant.

ARIZONA NATIONAL COPPER COMPANY

President T. M. B. Hicks, of the Arizona National Copper company that has acquired several groups of claims on Pinto creek, was here during the past week with a party of visitors from Williamsport, Pa. The offer of bonds to local investors has been withdrawn, as the entire issue has been placed in the east. We understand that the company has ample means to develop and equip its fine property and is planning for the early commencement of extensive development work. Messrs. Scholl and Kelley returned on Tuesday to the mines.

Carl Clausen, a well known mining engineer from Bisbee, is here to examine and report on a property situated on Pinto Creek. Mr. Clausen has made several visits here and has a high opinion of Globe district.

Grover Graydon, who was born in Globe, is spending a short vacation here with his mother and friends. Grover continues in the employ of the Southern Pacific as fireman on the run between Tucson and Lordsburg.

THE COPPER MARKET

Foreign and Domestic Prices Show a Tendency To Harden

Geo. L. Walker, in his copper letter of June 2, says:
Copper continues very strong, with foreign and domestic prices showing a decided tendency to harden. Lake is at 18 7/8 to 19 cents per pound, electrolytic at 18 5/8 to 18 3/4 cents, casting is 18 1/2 to 18 5/8 cents per pound. In some instances casting and electrolytic copper are quoted a shade higher than the above mentioned prices. There is very little copper available now for delivery before September. The active foreign buying during the week past has pretty well cleaned up the supplies for August. There is some concern regarding a possible advance now in prices for August delivery.

One of the large producers, whose copper is sold up into September, says that with a continuation of anything like the present demand for the metal their entire production will be absorbed for many months ahead. They were offered, last week, he said, an order for 5,000,000 pounds of electrolytic for delivery in August, but were unable to fill it and do not believe that prices will go below the present level this year.

The anticipated demand by foreign consumers set in with a rush this week and some large orders were placed at full prices for August delivery. Sales were also negotiated for delivery in September.

Metal interests state that indications point to sustained activity on the part of foreign buyers through the month of June and that from now on exports of copper to Europe will show considerable increase.

Foreign consumers, they say, have been holding aloof for several months and buying sparingly, in the belief that prices would decline below the present level. The genuine strength in the position of the metal has been so clearly demonstrated that they are now hastening to arrange for sufficient supplies to take care of their increasing requirements.

The domestic situation is quiet at the moment. The larger consumers generally have contracted for their copper well ahead. Several consumers have engaged supplies well into the fall months, not wishing to take chances on a possible shortage of copper later in the year. The Chinese copper available for export is believed to be exhausted.

There are unmistakable signs of a boom in the building of long distance high speed interurban electric railways in several sections of the United States, Canada and Mexico. It would be difficult to estimate correctly the immense amount of copper that will be consumed in this direction alone during the next five years.

Manufacturers of motors and various kinds of electrical machinery report that they are way behind in the delivery of orders, notwithstanding the fact that they are running their plants over time.

There is no evidence of weakness in the position of the metal.

DEATH OF MRS. BURNETT

Occurred Monday Last And is Deplored by Many Friends

Mrs. Grace Burnett, wife of P. F. Burnett, of the Old Dominion Copper company supply department, died last Monday night from typhoid fever, after an illness of several weeks.

The funeral took place Wednesday forenoon at 10 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of F. L. Jones. Rev. George Selby, of St. John's Episcopal church, conducted the service and members of the Old Dominion office force served as pall bearers, and they with other employees of the same company sent beautiful floral offerings.

Deceased was an estimable lady and her death is greatly deplored and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband. Mr. Burnett was for a number of years chief clerk for the interior department at San Carlos.

SENSATIONAL SHOOTING IN NORTH GLOBE

A somewhat sensational shooting scrape occurred last night at the north end of town, the participants being Frank Murdock and Harry Hayes. It is said four shots were fired by Hayes and one by Murdock. Hayes was very painfully wounded, a bullet striking the back of the left hand and coming out above the wrist, shattering the bones badly, and the spent ball is supposed to have entered the right breast, inflicting a flesh wound that is not serious. Murdock received a slight wound in the left hand, but had a close call, a bullet passing through his hat and clipping the hair on one side of his head. Both men were arrested and released on bonds.

INTEREST IN BASE BALL

Globe Will Soon Have a Good Team—
New Park Best in Territory

The first practice game of base ball in the new park was played last Sunday afternoon, to try out some of the aspirants for places on the regular team. There was a good attendance of the lovers of the national game and it is evident there will be no lack of interest when a team is organized that will be a credit to Globe. The play on Sunday was far from a professional character, but several of those who took part in the game did very well, considering their lack of practice, and some of Globe's best players were not present. A game will be played between picked nines next Sunday, which will be free to the public.

Everybody was pleased with the new ball park, which is large, comparatively level and near to the business center of the city. The expense of preparing the grounds, enclosing them with a substantial fence and building the grand stand has been considerable, but the business people of the city and lovers of the game are responding with liberal contributions.

The management hopes to arrange for a match game to be played here on July 4th with either the Clifton, Morenci or Tucson club, all of which clubs are playing good ball this season.

Next Saturday a dance for the benefit of the Globe base ball club will be given in the opera house and is expected to be liberally patronized.

EAST GLOBE COMPANY DECLARES DIVIDEND

The East Globe Land and Trust company, at its regular monthly meeting last Friday declared a dividend payable June 10, of $1.70 per share, which is 17 per cent on the par value of $10—not bad for a company that has been in existence hardly six months. The payment of this dividend will leave sufficient funds in the treasury to go ahead with the improvement of the East Globe addition. Contracts have been let by the company to Builder Simms for five modern cottages, to be erected at once. At the meeting a resolution was adopted declaring that the company would not engage in the construction or operation of an electric light and power plant.

A boiler of 150-horse power capacity, the largest single piece of machinery ever brought into Globe, was hauled out to the Copper Hill mine Wednesday by the old Phelps-Dodge traction engine.

McNELLY-FRANCIS NUPTIALS

A Pretty Wedding That Took Place in Tucson on Saturday Last

At 7:30 last evening at the Congregational church one of Tucson's most popular young ladies, Daisy, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Francis, became the bride of Ben A. McNelly, of Globe.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. B. Long of the Congregational church in the midst of a vast assemblage of friends and relatives. The church was prettily decorated in summer green and white blenders.

A large bell, beneath which the ceremony was performed, made the occasion very impressive. The bride was attended by her sister, Mary, as maid of honor, and the Misses Mabel and Bessie Judd as bridesmaids. Clyde Hoyt did honors as best man.

The bride was dressed in a beautiful white shadow cloth gown made in princess style. The maid of honor and bride's maids wore neat little gowns of blue-green shadow cloth.

The groom and best man were attired in the conventional black. The bride was given away by her brother, Arthur, and the ushers were Misses Mae Wheeler, Clark and Hoff.

After the ceremony the guests were entertained at the home of the bride's mother on Court street.

Refreshments and delightful music helped to pass away the pleasant moments.

Mr. McNelly and bride left on Number Ten this morning for Globe, Arizona, their future home.—Arizona Star.

The SILVER BELT joins in congratulations to the happy couple.—Ed.

TWENTY-NINE YEARS IN BUSINESS HERE

W. T. McNelly retired June 1 after having been in business continuously for twenty-nine years. Knox & McNelly built an adobe house and began business on the corner recently sold by Mr. McNelly, in 1877. On June 10, 1894, he was burned out, but secured another location and continued in business. In 1898 Mr. McNelly rebuilt and has occupied the premises ever since until relinquished June 1 to the new owner, Max Lantin, who paid $30,000 for the property. Mr. McNelly was also one of the largest owners in the McNelly-Crowley mines which have been sold for a good figure to the Arizona National Copper company. Mr. and Mrs. McNelly expect to leave soon for Oregon to visit relatives but will return to Globe in the fall.

MEXICAN RIOT AT CANANEA

Situation Desperate for Time
Now Under Control of Military

REPORT WAS EXAGGERATED

Victims Number Upwards of Fifty, of Whom Six are Americans—Dissem-sion Spread by Agitators—Mexican Officials and Americans Friendly.

Early reports of the loss of life resulting from the riots by Mexican employees of the Green Consolidated Copper company, last Friday and Saturday appear to have been greatly exaggerated. W. B. Kelley, editor of the Bisbee Review, who accompanied American volunteers to Cananea and witnessed much of the rioting estimated the number of Mexicans killed at 34 and Americans six.

The Tucson Citizen's representative advised his paper June 5 as follows: "The Mexican government late yesterday afternoon gave out an official list of the killed in the Cananea rioting. This list names twenty-three Mexicans and five Americans who were killed. Four of the Americans have been mentioned in the dispatches. The fifth was the book-keeper of the Cananea lumber yard."

"The official list of the killed, however, is undoubtedly not complete. Many of the killed and wounded were removed by the mob without coming into the possession of the authorities. Probably the total death list of the fighting of Friday and Saturday will run well up to fifty."

"The mob, as a mob, exists no longer, and if the rioting at Cananea was the beginning of a revolution, that revolution has been crushed. Disarmed and hungry, 700 of these men returned to labor in the mines yesterday morning. General Torres addressed two thousand of them yesterday and told them plainly that either they must be at work within two days or they would be drafted into the Mexican army and be set to fighting Yaquis. He said the rioters had no real grievance, and that their wages should not be increased one centavo."

The arrival of Lara and a man named Bermudez at Cananea marked, months ago, the beginning of the trouble. These two men issued a revolutionary paper called "The Regenerator," which advocated the downfall of the Diaz government. They said that Diaz had sold out to the Gringos and started the rallying cry of "Mexico for the Mexicans." Very quietly they organized revolutionary clubs.

On Friday morning, with trouble imminent, Col. Greene addressed the entire body of dissatisfied strikers at Ronquillo. The miners seemed satisfied for the moment, but agitators were among them. In the afternoon a mob formed and declared a strike. Two thousand marched upon the lumber yards to force the peons there to join them.

George Metcalf, in charge, turned the hose on them. Rioters began to shoot at Metcalf who, with his brother Will, returned to the office. When the place was fired the Metcalfs rushed out and died fighting. Their bodies were horribly disfigured by stab wounds inflicted with the points of miners' picksticks.

A leader of the mob fired a shot at Mr. Dwight, Greene's manager, who was standing near the latter. An American killed the man who fired the shot. The exchange of shots was general, the miners possessing themselves of guns and ammunition at different stores. The shooting during the night was frequent. Conrad Kruger, a Swiss-American, was killed and also about ten Mexicans.

On Saturday afternoon Governor Fabel with the Bisbee volunteers arrived at Cananea. The bringing of the Bisbee boys to Cananea is now regarded as a tactical mistake.

The agitators went among the peons and said that the Gringos were taking the first steps to steal their country. Ysabel learned of the feeling and ordered the Bisbee men to stay aboard their cars. Only a few were allowed to go up town. In spite of this precaution, however, the mob rose again and began shooting at the Americans. Leroy Rust was shot in front of the Fashion saloon in the lower part of the town. With blood gushing from his breast he ran a block and fell dead in his wife's arms. The women went insane at the sight and was forcibly removed by friends from Cananea on Sunday afternoon.

At 7 o'clock Saturday night Colonel Kosterlinsky, known among the peons as "the butcher," arrived from Yumuris with a force of rurales. The Bisbee volunteers were informed that the affairs were well in hand and were requested to go home. They did so without firing a shot.

Martial law was immediately proclaimed in Cananea, the saloons were closed and each man met was searched for arms by the rurales.

General Torres took command of the troops on Sunday morning. He received reinforcements which brought his force to about 500 men. It is probable that he will establish a permanent garrison at Cananea.

"Taken all in all, affairs at Cananea are at present pretty bad, but not nearly so bad as some of the reports have been making them."

"The peons want to strike; want to have a change of government in Mexico, and certainly hate all 'Gringos'—particularly the set in Cananea. It looks, however, as though none of their desires will be satisfied. Their anger will likely vent itself in occasional attempted assassinations."

Ho! For Denver

All parties, whether Elks or not, who intend going to Denver in July are requested to please send or give their names and number of persons in party to A. W. Sydnor, chairman transportation committee, within the next week. The round trip rate will be $42.30, good from July 13 to August 20. Pullman to Denver, $8. To leave here July 13.

Percy Hocker, of Roosevelt, has been in attendance upon court for several days, serving as a grand juror.

R. W. Grabe and wife returned on Monday from Los Angeles, where they went only a short time ago expecting to make their home there. However, they did not find the City of the Angels what their fancy and the local newspapers had painted it, and they were delighted to get back to Globe, which now seems to them to be about the best place on earth.

MISSOURI ENDORSES BRYAN

Democratic State Convention Pledges
Support to Nebraskan Leader

Jefferson City, Mo., June 5.—The democratic state convention today nominated Rube Oglesby of Warrenburg for railroad and warehouse commissioner, and Howard A. Cass, of Jefferson City, for superintendent of public schools.

The convention was noteworthy for its Bryan sentiment. Every mention of the Nebraskan's name brought applause and the platform adopted contains the following plank: "It has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of every patriotic, intelligent and fair minded American that Wm. J. Bryan was defeated for the presidency when he was the candidate of the Democratic party, by the corrupt use of an enormous 'slush fund' aggregating millions of dollars contributed by the great corporations and by those interested in special industries enjoying special privileges under the law. The charges made by democratic leaders and the democratic press that this was true, which charges were at the time indignantly denied, with a great show of virtue, are now substantially proven to be true. We declare that it is alike due to Mr. Bryan himself, and to the integrity of our institutions that he would be elected to the high office of chief magistrate of the nation at the election to be held in 1908, of which position he was deprived by methods calculated to discredit and put to shame the entire American electorate, and we pledge to him our support and aid that his nomination and election be attained. We unhesitatingly declare that a fair and honest election free from coercion or the corrupt use of money, at which the people may be given, what it is their right to have, an untrammeled opportunity to express their sovereign will at the ballot box, is an important issue in American politics today."

Former Governor D. R. Francis was invited to address the convention. Governor Francis said in part: "I wish to ask this convention to send its congratulations to the national democracy on the disappearance of our differences. There are no difficulties between us now. In 1904, what is known as the conservative element of our party asked that it be allowed to make the platform and name the candidate. Right liberally did the radical faction concede the honor to the conservative element. You know the result; now another campaign is approaching. Those of us who belong to what has been the conservative faction will be magnanimous; we would not be worthy democrats if we did not say to you that we will support your candidate and your platform this time. The differences that have divided the democracy exist no longer."

Governor Francis described Bryan as a "sincere lover of humanity and a patriotic citizen of the United States." He eulogized both Bryan and Cleveland, amid great cheering.

Former Governor Dockery urged the convention to stand by Governor Folk and that everything he had done as governor, "whether you like it, gentlemen, or not," he said. He spoke of Bryan as the next president.

Mayor James A. Reed of Kansas City addressed the convention briefly.

An invitation was sent to the capital asking Governor Folk to address the convention. Governor Folk responded and was cheered when he entered the hall and mounted the rostrum. He declared that Bryan would be nominated for president in 1908, and would be elected. He said the principles which Bryan had advocated in 1896 were then considered anarchistic, but now are considered the acme of patriotism. He concluded by speaking on law enforcement in Missouri.

ANGORA GOAT RAISING IS PROFITABLE BUSINESS

The Gila County Angora Goat company held its annual meeting last Monday night and elected directors as follows: T. A. Pascoe, J. R. Barnette, W. W. Brookner, B. F. Gray and A. F. Kincaid. The officers chosen are: President, T. A. Pascoe; vice president, W. W. Brookner; manager, J. R. Barnette. The company declared a dividend of 20 per cent on its capital stock, which represents profits for a year after paying for new machinery and other improvements. The company purchased power shearing machinery last year and this season will add a dipping plant. They have between 11,000 and 12,000 head of graded goats, placed at eight different ranches in this vicinity.

Mrs. Will Shanley and baby left on Tuesday for Los Angeles to visit
